

Loving God,
May the world find peace
In the conversations we have
The dreams we share
And the moments
that make space for others