Coffee Pot

Warm up your coffee and get the baking on for tomorrow's Coffee Pot at 10.30 and every Friday from now on. A chance for a wee blether and a catch up online. The link is at the bottom of this email.

Clocks

A wee reminder that the clocks go back on Saturday night so we all gain an hour - Yay!

Communion Sunday 31st October

Sunday 31st is Communion Sunday and while others may be chasing 'hobgoblins and foul fiends' we will share bread and wine.

We are unable to share in the traditional way, which invites us to be a little more creative in telling the story of bread and wine.

If you normally engage with the community in the YouTube video or podcast or phone line, we invite you to bring some bread and wine with you to your screen or speaker. If you will be in the sanctuary then you will be invited to collect a paper bag on your way in which will contain some oatcakes, untouched by human hands.

In this way, wherever we are, we will share the story of the last supper.

Quiz

The quiz returns on Monday 1st with John McGee back as quiz-meister. 7pm on Zoom. We hope the short break has allowed you to do some extra swatting. See you then.

Christmas is coming

... and all too soon! How might we celebrate this year between in-person services and online events? A wee get together has been organised for Zoom at 7pm on Wednesday 3rd November for anyone interested to pop in for an hour and explore some ideas that keep us all safe, yet find meaning in the season.

Sofa Surfers is back on Thursday 4th where, in the echo of COP26, we explore recycling: what we can and can't do with some insights and experts with us to help us through the myriad of myths, PET numbers and rumours. 7pm on Zoom.

Coming up

SingSong! is on Tuesday 9th on Zoom at 2pm and the Men's Association in the evening, in person in the New Halls at 7.30 with the Woodlands Trust led by Stephen Rodgers.

Remembrance Sunday is 14th November with a service at the cross at 10.45 and then our own in-person service at 11.30.

Zoom Links

(The Zoom Links are emailed. If you have not received them, please email either mail@nkchurch.org.uk or rodgy.hamilton@churchofscotland.org.uk)

To log in, either search for Zoom on Google or click the Zoom icon on your tablet. Click the button that says: Join a meeting. Put in the Meeting ID number, then in the box below, type in your first and second names. Click join. Then type in the passcode. You should then arrive in the waiting room and the host will let you in in due course.
