Macmillan Garden Coffee

There are still slots left for booking your place at the Macmillan safe garden coffee/tea event on Saturday 4th September - particularly the 2-3 and 3.30-4.30 afternoon slots. The event is being held at 25 Gartconnell Road on Saturday 4th September, so there isn't long to book a place. Others are already going.

It's easy. Email Kirsteen Maclean: (kirsteen7@btinternet.com) or phone 0141 942 7603 to make a booking or ask for information. It is safely outdoors with limited numbers in each time slot – 10-11am, 11.30-12.30, 2-3pm or 3.30-4.30. You can request a "bubble" of 1, 2, 3 or 4 seats together. Bookings are required for Test and Trace and to restrict each of the slots to 20 people. Kirsteen asks that you wear a mask going through her house, while selecting your food from the table on the way through, and until you reach your seat at a table in the back garden. Roddy has promised sunshine, but, in case it's not quite possible, there will be alternative arrangements under gazebos, or other cover. Perhaps a woolly of some sort might be in order. At the end of your hour, you will be asked to leave through an alternative exit, through the garage.

On the way out, there will be the opportunity to donate to Macmillan, but, as an alternative, since we have got used to not carrying "filthy lucre", Macmillan have given us a personal donation page which you can go to by just clicking here where you can donate directly, but as part of this particular coffee morning.

SingSong!

SingSong! has returned to Tuesday afternoons. It feels like everything is right in the world once more: balance has been restored.

Come and join us for a wee online sing suitable for people with some degree of memory loss, those with dementia, and equally suitable for everyone who would just like to clear their throats and have a good sing.

We're on fortnightly from Tuesday 31st August. Do put the date in your diary because you'll miss it otherwise, and you'll be missed.

The link is on the website here.

Think Tank: The definite date

Wednesday 1st September
at 7.30. Zoom

This is a chance to explore how to move what we have done online in our social groups, into a blended version that suits a face-to-face meeting, as well as remaining safely online, and to reflect on what has worked in worship online and in the sanctuary, and explore how we might progress, blend, learn and grow.

COP26 Windows

We're looking for fruit, vegetables, chickens and lambs and cows and pigs to go onto our next window. It is a bit blank at the moment.

You can find inspiration here where you can download some outlines, or just be creative.

Any finished items can be posted through the letterbox at the church; or take a photo of it and email it to the church office (just click the underlined and it will take you to your email). Thank you - you are all fabulous in the way you take part.
